Year VI., No. 38.

Grain Commissioner Sits at Gleichen

On Wednesday of last week there was an interesting sitting of the Dominion Government Grain Commission in the Gleichen Town Hall, when Mr. H. E. Gordon, Inspector for Alberta, was interviewed by a number of our local farmers including Messrs. Shore, Buckley, Lee, Moore, Williams, Allgood, Kirkup and Hayes as well as J. G. Larlee, the C. P. R. Grain Inspector. The latter being present to render all the information he could.

Unfortunately the Call reporter was unable to attend the meeting, but Secretary Trego, of the Farmers Union, was asked for a report and although he was unable to give anything in detail of the meeting he said it was most interesting and he was satisfied that all who attended profited greatly.

Mr. Trego was particularly anxious that all should understand that Mr. Spurr, the Gleichen C. P. R. agent, proved correct in every instance in the ordering of cars, and said he thought it only right that all should know that Mr. Spurr had carried out his instructions according to the law most faithfully.

Mr. Trego stated that practically all the complaints brought before the commissioner related to the trouble of securing cars, but when each case advanced was probed into there was no real fault to find. Yet he was of the opinion that in many instances the law was being taken advantage of. Mr. Trego said he believed some farmers were acting unfairly by getting others to order cars for them and thus one farmer could load two or three cars in succession while the others have to wait their turn. The law provides that one man can only order one car and this one must be filled before he can again place his name on the order book. The Call is getting the grain act condensed and for the benefit of the shippers will print it.

The following letter has been received by the secretary from Mr. Gordon and is published by request. It fully explains itself:

I spent a day in Gleichen, visiting the elevators, farmers and the C.P.R. offices and because of a good deal of misapprehension I thought a few suggestions from me would not be amiss.

Most trouble seems to centre about the car order book. The only person whose name should appear on the order book is the person who is the actual owner, at the time of signing, of a car lot of grain for shipment. This is the only person entitled to a car, and in case a car is allotted to a person who has not a car lot of grain for shipment, when the agent is informed of this fact by the applicant he cancels the car and allots it to the next name on the list, no matter where the car has been spotted.

Section 245 of the Dominion Grain act provides a very severe penalty for anyone who in anyway traffics with these cars. It is a punishable offence to transfer or sell your right to a car, to load a car that has not been allotted to you or load a car out of your turn, to purchase or accept any assignment of another's right to a car, to place a name on the car order book without being duly authorized in writing to do so.

Elect Councillors and Trustees by Acclamation

There will be no election in Gleichen this year for either mayor, councillors or school trustees—all being elected by acclamation. The nominations on Monday resulting as follows:

Mayor, C. J. Bray, by Wm. Service and F. K. McKay.
Alderman, A. F. Larkin, by A. R. Yates and F. C. Gaudaur.
Alderman, F. C. Gaudaur, by A. R. Yates and Wm. Service.
Alderman, F. K. McKay, by C. J. Bray and Wm. Service.
Trustee, Emil Griesbach, by F. K. McKay and Wm. Service.
Trustee, John Burr, Sr., by A. R. Yates and B. S. Corey.
Trustee, A. Ramsbottom, by A. R. Yates and B. S. Corey.

Nomination day passed off very quietly and in fact it was only by hard work that sufficient qualified candidates were secured to accept the honored positions, yet all considered Gleichen has a pretty fair representation of business men on both the council and school board.

The Council for next year will comprise Mayor C. J. Bray, re-elected; Councillors, J. B. Leggat, A. R. Yates, Wm. Service, A. F. Larkin, F. C. Gaudaur and F. K. McKay. The trustees will be W. H. James, J. A. E. Beaupre, Emil Griesbach, John Burr, sr., and A. Ramsbottom.

Practically all elected would have appreciated a little opposition, believing that it would have shown that the ratepayers are taking an interest in the town and school affairs.

288,094 BU. GRAIN SOLD SO FAR

Partly owing to the continuing low water the amount of grain coming in has fallen off considerably, only 13,300 bushels being hauled in the past week. The grain coming in from the district has been very light owing to the fact that the Bow River has been running with low water. The district is expected to be very dry, but as yesterday was partly cold it is expected the river will freeze solid enough for teams to cross and grain hauling will be possible.

Car shortage is still the main complaint with the elevators and with track shippers.

The Alberta Pacific during the week shipped three cars of No. 2 wheat and two of No. 3. The manager stating cars were very scarce.

The Imperial shipped three cars of wheat and the manager said the elevator was full of wheat and that on Tuesday only one car arrived in Gleichen.

The Sunny Belt man had shipped none the past week but expected before the end of this week to ship at least five cars. His elevator was almost full and was in the worst position it had been for a long time.

On the track for the week three cars had been shipped containing 3,300 bushels.

	PAST WEEK	TOTAL TO DATE
Wheat	12,800	207,794
Oats	1,000	58,600
Barley		15,400
Flax		6,300
Total bushels for week	13,800	Total to date 288,094

The C. P. R. agent is the only person who can allot a car or cancel a car.

Any information desired or any complaint made, by the farmer, the elevator manager or the agent will receive careful attention if it is sent to the secretary of the Grain Commission, Fort William, Ont.

The Commission is desirous to co-operate with all agencies that make for the betterment of the grain problem. The Commissioners have in mind several measures that ought to be of great benefit to the grain growers of this country. Just to mention one: Sample markets. Canada is the only country in the world where selling wheat by grade is compulsory and where sold by sample is impossible.

In the United States, in European countries, in Australia, in South America grain can be sold either by grade or samples. In Canada, the grading system has been developed to such an extent that selling by sample is impossible.

The natural way to sell an article is to show it to the buyer and the sellers of grain should have a right to sell grain as other articles are sold.

It is hoped that this and other subjects of vital interests to the farming community will be fully discussed this winter and that the Commission may have the benefit of the gist of these deliberations to guide them in matters of further legislation.

The death of Mrs. P. V. Demarest at the ripe old age of 81 years coming New Year's day, came as a shock to her many friends and relatives on Monday, Nov. 25th, at her son's home north of Gleichen. The evening previous several of her Gleichen friends dined at the home and the time was pleasantly spent in singing, music and joking generally in which she took a very active part, in fact it is said that the good lady was never known to laugh more heartily and appeared in the best of health. About 5 o'clock Monday morning her son hearing a noise in her room went into see her and was alarmed to find her quite ill and at once telephoned to town for Dr. Rose, who pronounced the illness paralysis, which affected her speech and the right side of the brain, she finally became unconscious and passed away about 5:30 that evening. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon and was very largely attended by the farmers in that vicinity and a number of townspeople. Deceased had resided in Gleichen about two and a half years and had made many friends here by her kind disposition and was respected by all who came in contact with her. She was born in Indiana, her father being one of the first arrivals in Fort Wayne.

The Pacific Cold Storage Co. on Monday took over the Pioneer Meat Market, which the company purchased from Messrs. Padley & Wilson. The company has also acquired the business at Brooks and announce that they will open all along the line. They will also erect a cold storage plant at Gleichen and arrange to take care of all the hogs raised in this district. The Call by next issue will be able to give some very interesting reading on the plans the Pacific Cold Storage Co. has inaugurated for this district, which promise to be of great advantage to our farmers.

Much sympathy is expressed with Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hanson-Powter, in the bereavement of their only boy, aged seven weeks, on Sunday, December 1st.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's church will hold a home-made cooking and needle work sale in the Bank of Commerce on Wednesday evening, Dec. 11th, at 7.30. All are welcome.

Notice!

Kindly allow me through the columns of your paper to contradict the statements made by certain parties of Gleichen that immediately after taking possession of the market we would raise the price of meat products. It is not the case, as we consider prices obtained by the former firm sufficiently high, and the public may feel assured that we are here to stay and intend to treat them justly.

He has cured that case? Dorothy said with a little breathless gasp in her voice.

The patient seems to be on the high road to a cure. He is convalescent now, and doing well. Dyncourt seems to be a very advanced pioneer. His colleagues were disinclined to listen to his theories; in fact they appear to have looked upon him as a proposer of dangerous innovations. The patient was not operated on in the hospital; Dyncourt put him into some home of which your friend, Sister Clare, told him, and he wants me to—

He wants you to go into the same home, Dorothy said steadily, her mind still in a turmoil, her words spoken mechanically, and more because she felt the necessity of saying something than because she wished to speak.

He suggested that I should go into it, but Dorothy, I told him I could make no decision without consulting you. I felt at the time—I feel now—that if I snatched at this chance of life I shall be going back from my word, not only to you, but also to the man who loves you, the man who has a right to expect me to keep my promise.

Your promise? Dorothy looked at him, her eyes puzzled, her face flushed.

I have virtually promised—you—and him—that I will die at a given time. What business have I to break my promise to both of you?

Oh, don't, Miles—don't. Her eyes grew dark with pain. You must not talk like that. You mustn't think such things. If there is a chance—even the very faintest chance—of saving your life, you must take it.

I have been calling myself a coward for coming to you with the decision at all, Miles said. Since I left Dyncourt's room I have told myself over and over again, that I ought to say nothing and let nothing be done, but—just—snuff out quietly when the time comes.

But life is a gift from God and you have no right to throw it away, Dorothy said gravely.

But for your sake, sweetheart—for your sake, and for the sake of the man you love—the man who loves you—I ought to—

To have flung away a chance of life she cried impetuously. Did you think—did you really think, Miles, that you ought to refuse the operation—and—just die? Did you think that? She put her hand on his arm, her eyes looked eagerly up into his.

Of course I did, he answered simply. I feel now like a skunk who has broken his promise and failed to come up to the scratch. A soft laugh that sounded perilously near tears broke from Dorothy, a laugh that held in it as well a note of triumph.

I believe you very nearly did what you thought of doing, she said, and in her voice was the same note of triumph as in her laugh. You almost made up your mind not to come and tell me all this, but—to give up your life—without a word.

Of course I did, he repeated; but there's nothing out of the way in that. Any decent fellow who would make the same mess of things would have the thought of the same way out. Only other chaps would have had the nerve to go through with it, and I—have come whining to you.

Whining to me? Dorothy's voice was very soft, her hand slipped down

ECZEMA ITCHED AND BURNED

Until She was Nearly Crazy. Began with Watery Blisters. On Ears, Eyes, Hands and Ankles. Could Not Sleep for Scratching. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Brunswick St., Fredericton, N. B.—"I had a very bad case of eczema. The trouble began with watery blisters and itched and burned until I was nearly crazy. It was on my ears, eyes, hands and ankles. I could not keep the bed clothes over me at night for the smarting and itching. My ears would swell. I would scratch until the blood would run and then form a scab. I felt as if I could take a knife and cut the flesh on my hands. It would disfigure my face and make it smart and burn and swell. I could not sleep at night for scratching.

"I tried everything I heard of without getting any benefit. I used lots of home remedies, such as lard and sulphur, and also was treated for it. Then I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they gave me great ease. I used them about four months and I am happy to say I am never troubled now. The Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me completely." (Signed) Mrs. A. S. Thompson, Mar. 9, 1912.

The regular use of Cuticura Soap for toilet and bath not only tends to preserve, purify and beautify the skin, scalp, hair and hands, but assists in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, yellow, oily, mothy and other unwholesome conditions of the skin. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post card, Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 44D, Boston, U. S. A.

A sentimental young lady from town was on the steamship quay, where she saw a young girl sitting on a trunk in an attitude of utter dejection, and despair.

For a thing, thought the romantic young lady. She is probably alone and a stranger. Her pale cheeks and great sad eyes tell of a broken heart and a yearning sympathy.

She went over to the traveller to win her confidence.

What have you compromised on? A baby carriage, he proudly answered.

WOMAN ON TOUR IN AFRICA

Dressed in Man's Clothing, Mrs. Marguerite Roby Travels 3500 Miles

Mrs. Marguerite Roby has returned to London after a 3500 mile journey in the Congo. She traveled in man's clothing and was attended only by a constantly changing company of half-civilized blacks.

Mrs. Roby, who is still suffering from the effects of tropical illness, described her adventure in an interview.

She was frequently deserted by her porters and guides and left stranded. She narrowly escaped death in a charge made by a herd of wild buffaloes. She shot four of the animals in less than twenty minutes, when all her attendants had fled.

In many districts she was the first white woman to be seen by the natives. On one occasion she had a lively hour or two in a wild, almost barbaric part of the lower Congo. She had only one black boy to escort her and she sat down by the side of a narrow road.

Everything was still, Mrs. Roby said, and the country around seemed as lonely and uninhabited as a long forgotten graveyard. In a moment two or three thousand savage-eyed black men, with spears and clubs, appeared as if from the ground, and surrounded me. The men were repulsively ugly, and fearless streaks of brilliant red paint marked out the lines of their eyes and mouths.

The chief demanded that I should stay in his village, but I refused. Fortunately I had my revolver and several guns with me, and that seemed to terrify the most evil-looking of my unwelcome visitors but it was a long time before I could quite placate them. The chief I heard later had sounded the war drum that night and had called his people from miles around to see the white woman dance, but fortunately for the audience I did not attend.

Mrs. Roby has a very poor opinion of the natives of the lower Congo. She declares that the missionaries have spoiled them. Their insolence is absolutely abominable, she said. I won't work, they will say, and if you touch me I shall make a report to the magistrate.

My experience has taught me that the mission boy is the biggest rogue, thief and murderer, even that one can find.

This is the second journey, Mrs. Roby has undertaken in the Congo and in all she has covered some 8000 miles through some of the wildest and most isolated parts of the country.

SATAN AS ANGEL OF TRIAL

Englishwoman Places Proverbial Father of Evil in Favorable Light

A novel and entirely new conception of satan was an interesting feature of the play by Miss Amherst's drama, "The Book of Job," produced at the Norwich Players and at the small, Covent Garden, on Monday last.

Instead of the popular notion, satan was represented as an Angel of Trial.

Many learned professors have endorsed this theory, reading the Book of Job, as meaning that satan only acted as a judge of the evildoer, instead of being the Evil One himself.

Miss Amherst's reading of Job is that satan is depicted as one of the Sons of God—or the Elohim.

"He is represented," said Miss Amherst yesterday, "as the Angel of Trial or the Accuser. His function is to search out and weigh the deeds of men, to see if their service to God is perfectly disinterested or not."

It is only in later years that satan was thought of as an evildoer, probably owing to the misunderstanding of his function as judge.

Among scholars who are interested in this theory, and who will probably attend the performance, are Prof. A. S. Peake, of Manchester University; Canon Kennett, regius professor of Hebrew, Cambridge; Canon Driver, regius professor of Hebrew, Oxford; and Prof. C. M. Montiflore, who edited the Bible for home reading.

The drama aroused intense enthusiasm among church students when produced last year at Norwich, and Miss Amherst received great praise for her beautiful and delicate rendering of the book for stage purposes. It has received the approval of the Bishop of London.

No objection can be taken to the performance on the ground of want of reverence. The Divinity is represented by a Voice.

ANOTHER BIG DIAMOND FOUND

More Than Half the Size of the Cullinan Its Value Is Not Estimated

An article in the Rand Daily Mail states that a diamond of 1649 carats was found in the Premier mine, this being the second largest diamond ever found in the world.

The new stone is more than half the size of the Cullinan diamond, which came from the same mine. The new stone has black streaks but the experts consider that the flaws are only on the surface.

The weights of some of the most famous diamonds in the world are as follows:

Cullinan 3025 1/2 Koh-i-nor 186 1/2 Great Mogul 787

The Cullinan diamond was also found in the Transvaal at the Premier Transvaal diamond mine, and was named after the then chairman of the company. It was presented to the king by the Transvaal government, and was cut into eleven flawless stones. The largest of 516 1/2 carats, is in the Imperial crown and two great stones are worn by the queen as jewels, as a pendant on state occasions.

Advantages and Saving by Using The Loading Platform

In the writing we desire to put before our Western Farmers the saving and advantage of loading grain direct on cars. Shipping grain through an elevator, it matters not whether a Government elevator or one run by an elevator company or individual owner, does not add the least fraction of a cent to the value of the grain, nor does it give the farmer any better chance of marketing it to advantage than when loaded direct on cars. But loading direct on cars cuts out in the first place the elevator charge, which is usually 1 1/2 cts. per bushel, say $17.50 on a thousand bushel car. The elevator dockage is also saved; this may be worth more or less, depending partly on how dirty the grain is, but mostly on the farmer's ability in holding his own with the elevator man taking it in. On the average the dockage may be considered worth 30 cts. per bushel to the farmer, or say $30 per car of 1,000 bushels. When grain is loaded direct into car over the Loading Platform, the farmer knows for sure that it is his very own grain that will be graded by the inspector, and that he will without doubt receive the full and exact return of his car at whichever terminal elevator it is unloaded; for all grain is unloaded from the cars under government superintendence and weighed by properly qualified government weighmen under the rules and supervision of the Dominion Government Board of Grain Commissioners.

Of course, it makes no difference in our loading of the farmers' grain whether it has been shipped through an elevator or over the Loading Platform, but it can easily be seen from what we have stated above where the farmer's advantage lies, when it saves him around $50 or more on every car he ships.

We continue to act as the farmers' agents, and are not connected with, nor interested in any elevator companies or elevators, either local or terminal, neither are we truck buyers. In fact, we never buy farmers' grain on our own account, but only to handle and dispose of the grain entrusted to us as the agents of those who employ us. Many years' experience, with a wide connection and ample facilities for engaging in this special branch of the grain trade, have given us a reputation of the highest character in it. We make liberal advances on car bills of lading. Write us for shipping instructions and market information. We give as references to our reliability, efficiency and financial standing any city or country Bank Manager in Western Canada.

Opportunity

There are Four Things which never come back

There is an old saying that "Opportunity has hair in front and is bald behind. If you seize her by the forelock you may detain her, but if you suffer her to escape not even Jupiter himself can catch her again."

Many people do with "Opportunity" as children do at the sea-shore—they fill their hands with sand and let the grains fall through, one by one, till they are gone.

This is the day of the farmers' opportunity, with a new country where new institutions and new lines of business are coming up. Why not change the order of things? The old methods have been a failure so far as the farmer was concerned; he produced the wealth and handed it over to other corporations for distribution, getting back the measly share they grudgingly gave him.

Think this over and decide to help build up a new order of things.

Nothing shocks a girl quite as much as hearing an elderly woman laugh over the love disappointment she had when young.

Boy Climbs 120-Foot Chimney

Challenged by some other boys a 10-year-old Burton schoolboy has just accomplished the daring feat of climbing a chimney shaft 120 feet in height, which is being repaired. By the time the intrepid youngster had reached the top of the ladder, a large crowd had collected, and the onlookers had an anxious few minutes while the tiny figure was seen walking calmly down a small, unprotected staging.

A book-keeper out of a job is naturally a man of no account.

WESTERN CANADA'S DAY

This has been referred to as Canada's Century. In West-Canada we use no such general term—this is Western Canada's century, decade, year, month, week and day.
With the passing of each twenty-four hour period, new business blocks and homes are under construction, new lines of railway have pushed on a little further, and each day is brighter than the one preceeding.

There is no safer or surer investment today than the farm lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. If you

CANADIAN PACIFIC IRRIGATION COLONIZATION COMPANY, LTD.
CALGARY, ALBERTA

C. P. R. STEER FEEDING COMPETITION

The Animal Husbandry Branch,
Department of Natural Resources,
Canadian Pacific Railway, has announced a steer feeding competition for the coming winter. Prizes to the value of $250 are offered, besides which each competitor will have an opportunity to make a profit of from $225 to $265 on the steers which the company will furnish them. This is along the line of the Canadian Pacific's extensive campaign for the encouragement of mixed farming in Western Canada. While the competition just inaugurated is limited to the Irrigation Block, it is but a forerunner of larger competitions which, it is probable, will cover the entire Canadian West.

Briefly, the competition is as follows: Farmers' sons under the age of 25 years, living with their parents on the Irrigation Block, will be furnished by the Canadian Pacific with 8 prime feeding steers, giving for them their note, which reaches maturity when the animals are sold. They will feed these steers during the winter and dispose of them at opportune times in the spring. Of the products of the sale the Canadian Pacific will receive the original cost of the animal, plus 8 per cent. interest on the money. The boys who enter the competition will receive the profit made on the steers. It is figured that under proper feeding arrangements each steer will gain approximately 200 pounds during the feeding period and the fat stock will be worth much more per pound than the feeders. Experts figure that under proper feeding conditions each steer should return to the company a profit of about $33.

The conditions of the contest are as follows:

1—The competition is open to farmers sons under 25 years of age, resident on their parents' farms in the Irrigation Block.

2—Competitors shall undertake to feed as finished steers in the spring 8 steers, to be supplied them by the company on lien notes bearing interest at 8 per cent.

3—Steers will be weighed in and weighed out at competitors point of shipment, and the prizes awarded on the basis of gains made during the feeding period.

4—Competitors may feed and manage the animal as they see fit, but in such a manner that the animal will be fit for slaughter
when delivered in the spring.

5—Each competitor is to make a statement of the kinds and approximate quantity of feed consumed by the steers.

6—Steers lost through natural causes will be made good by the company, but any lost through negligence by the competitor must be paid for by him.

7—Representatives of the Animal Husbandry branch of the C. P. R. will visit each competitor at least twice during the competition and if the competitor so desires will advise him regarding the feeding and management.

8—The feeding competition will continue until the spring cattle show at Calgary, which will be on or before April 15th.

9—All those desiring to enter should forward their names to J.
G. Rutherford, C. M. G., Superintendent of Animal Husbandry,
Department of Natural Resources,
Canadian Pacific Railway, Calgary,
Alta.

Mr. Rutherford believes that this is a very opportune time to interest young men to better conditions in the feeding of live stock. Not in the history of the cattle industry of this country has there been a time when prospects for making money in the cattle feeding business were better than now. Feeding cattle are high in price and scarce; beef sold at a higher price in America in 1912 than it ever sold before; there are fewer cattle in this country this year than there were last, and there will be fewer next year than there are now.

Suitable Christmas Gifts

Every year we are pestered by a lot of readers who want suggestions as to suitable Christmas gifts for sweethearts. The young ladies ask us what to give the gentlemen and vice versa, terra firma, et cetera.
This year we have prepared, in advance, a list of suitable gifts.
Give any one of these and you can't go wrong. Do your Christmas shopping early. Here is our list:

spoon.

The Farmer's Idle Wife

(The farmer's wife, is now so occupied with social affairs that she has lost the art of making butter and jam, and doing the work of the farm that her grandmother did. It results in a great economic loss to the country.—The substance of a government report issued from the Agricultural department at Washington.)

The farmer's wife in early days got up at half-past two; She shined the plows and milked the cows, and put the prunes to stew.

The breakfast for the hands, she'd set upon the stroke of four. And then she'd bake her bread and cake and scrub the kitchen floor. But now a-days the farmer's wife has time to call her own.

"Good gracious!" says the government, "how idle she has grown."

The farmer's wife, in times gone by brought up the calves and lambs, And sacked the oats and fed the shoots and smoked the hickory hams.

And when she'd cook three great big meals she cheerfully arose, And with her churn sat down to earn the money for her clothes. But now she often visits round and gossips, like as not.

"My goodness!" says the government, "how worthless she has got!"

The farmer's wife some years ago, was wholly free from nerves; Twelve hours a day she'd slave away at putting up the preserves. Six children dangled at her skirts, a seventh on her arm.

She'd gamely set herself to get the mortgage off the farm. But now she sometimes takes a rest like city women do,

"Great Heavens!" cries the government, "what is she coming to?"

The farmer's wife departed from this vale of toil and tears For happier climes, in those old times, when under thirty years,

The farmer got another mate, he somehow always found The ideal wife who toiled through life and rested—underground.

But now sometimes her years add up their full allotted sum.

"Great Scott!" exclaims the government, how shiftless she's become —James J. Montague in Baltimore American.

SCIENTIST HOPES TO EXPLAIN LAUGHTER

Why do you laugh? Don't answer right away. Take a couple of months in which to think it over. This is a serious matter, you know. Professor Charles K. Mills, of the University of Pennsylvania, has been scientifically considering it. He finds there is an emotional zone in the brain—whenever brain is present in any noticeable quantity in the individual, of course—which is affected by voluntary and involuntary movements of portions of the nervous apparatus. But this does not fully explain does it? It doesn't tell us why we—that is, some of us—laugh when some elderly person steps on a banana peel and falls and fractures his dignity and an arm; or why laughter so often follows telling of tales at which a crowd might blush—now does it?

Nor does it explain the smile that is made to order for political or other uses. In fact there are many angles to this problem of laughter, aren't there? Sometimes it doesn't come when it's wanted and expected. So the easiest way to answer the question, "Why do we laugh?" is probably by that favorite word of our sisters, "Because!"

Recently a man was brought before F. C. Vigar, J.P., by Game Warden Wm. Service, and being found guilty of having in his possession a beaver hide was given the option of paying $10 and costs or serving thirty days in jail at hard labor. He paid his fine claiming ignorance of the law and to have purchased the hide from a workman on the irrigation canal who has since gone to the United States. It will, therefore, be well for all to heed this warning and be very careful in purchasing hides. Game Warden Service is endeavoring to do his duty most thoroughly and will spare no one whom he learns has broken the law in this respect.

ADVERTISING TALKS

Real advertising, the kind that pulls is telling the truth about something you have to sell and creating a desire in the reader to have the something you want to sell.

This is done cheapest, most effectively and most forcibly through the printed message in the newspaper.

It is done in other ways but no other agency is so universal and so cheap as the newspaper.

Have a good thing to sell, tell about it in convincing words, do it often enough, and success is certain.

Advertising properly done costs you nothing; on the contrary, it is a source of income.

Pear's Soap wouldn't be known outside of its own district in England had it not been advertised. Millions spent in advertising it has built up a colossal fortune.

The real estate man, would not be heard of outside of his own city were it not for his persistent and unusual advertising. As it is he is amassing a big fortune.

John Wanamaker built up his big fortune by every day advertising, continued year after year.

Advertising by spurts is not real advertising. It is keeping everlastingly at it that counts.

It pays the country merchant as well as the merchant in the big city to advertise.

It pays to study advertising as an art, but anybody with faith in his goods and good horse sense can write a good advertisement.

You know how you talk to a customer who is not sure whether he wants to buy or not. Talk the same way to the customer you want to influence through your advertisement.

Don't try to get funny or to get back at your competitor in an advertisement.

Don't imagine you are throwing away money in good newspaper advertising. Like the proverbial bread thrown on the waters it will return.

Advertising would not be so universal were it not a mighty force in modern business.

Good business men would not keep it up year after year if advertising did not pay.

Advertising not only attracts business but it stimulates business and makes business.

Either a small business or a great business can be made greater by the right kind of advertising.

Don't advertise to give away gold dollars for nothing—nobody will believe you.

An English metropolitan daily has started a discussion on "in case of fire, should a woman save her husband or her dog?" This is a matter for the lady to decide. The dog is often the more faithful of the two.

Salt for Fowl

Salt is needed by all animals including fowl, and they cannot do their best without it. Some of it may be obtained in small quantities in the grains, but very seldom is there enough to supply the actual needs, and it is necessary to furnish it at all times, especially after they are two or three months old.

It can safely be supplied by leaving it in open boxes within easy reach. When thus supplied it should be in the form of coarse barrel salt. This statement is made on the authority of the experiment stations where the matter has been thoroughly tested. From exhaustive experiment it has been found that five ounces of fine table salt can be safely mixed with every 100 pounds of mash food, and it is probably better fed in this way than to leave it before them all the time.

During one of these experiments conducted in the winter it was found that hens fed with a salted mash laid nearly twice as many eggs as the same number under similar conditions, except that no salt was mixed with food.

The experiment was carried on with a slightly increased amount of salt until it was fed at the rate of .034 of an ounce per day for each hen (nearly half a pint a day for 100 fowl). When this amount was reached there was a slight diarrhoea that attacked some of the hens, but this soon disappeared when the amount of salt was reduced.

From a bulletin issued by the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture comes the following: "Have you a dairy cow?" If this question were asked our Saskatchewan farmers today, 95 per cent of them can answer in the negative. A dairy cow is not merely a female bovine milking from one to three thousand pounds a year, with a fat test of 2 to 3 per cent. An animal of this description "gives milk" and that is all. A dairy cow gives all the way from 6,000 to 30,000 pounds testing from 3 to 5 per cent butter fat, and she does it with ease for she is professional at the business. Someone says "Look at the price!" Certainly, look at the price. At present figures the ordinary milking animal costs from $60 to $80; the dairy cow costs from $150 to $300.

More About the Ranching Commission

Space last week would not permit The Call to publish all we desired concerning the Ranching and Grazing Commission at Gleichen, and, therefore, we now give further particulars.

Harold W. Riley, M. L. A. for the Gleichen constituency acting as spokesman for the ranchers read and explained the resolutions to the commissioners in a most interesting manner. Mr. Riley pointed out in presenting these recommendations that the stockraisers of this district are uniformly strongly opposed to the present grazing regulations and believe that the abolition of the two year cancellation clause is vitally necessary to the preservation of the stockraising industry. As a result of this uncertainty of tenure, the stock production has decreased at least 75 per cent in the past five years as estimated by Mr. E. Douglas Hardwick, one of the oldest cattle men in this district. There are certain lands in this district which are suitable for grazing purposes lying north of the Red Deer river and west of the Calgary Edmonton line of the C. P. R. and it was the unanimous opinion that these should be reserved for the raising of stock.

It may be said without derogation to the province as an agricultural province that these lands are fit only for grazing. These should certainly in the opinion of the rancher of this locality, be thrown open for leasing and the lease made of sufficient duration to give the stockman a reasonable amount of security. It is the opinion that the term should be at least fifteen years. Homesteaders often take up land blindly, not knowing its real character. It may turn out to be largely grazing land, and several years will probably elapse before this grazing land will be made available for stock, if it ever is made so. We should have this strictly grazing land exempted from homesteading, and reserved for the ranchers.

With regard to areas not strictly reserved for grazing, it was the opinion of the meeting that if an applicant for a lease of a portion of such lands deposited six months rent with the department, the part applied for should be exempt from homesteading till the leasing application was decided one way or the other. It was not thought, as it has been in some other districts visited by the commissioners, that the lessee required any more protection than at present as regards hay rights. Fencing of the lease, it was agreed should, be optional. Where public roads crossed the lease the lessee should have the right to fence in the road allowances if gates were provided.

It was agreed that the lessee should be allowed five years to decide as to the purchase of a part of the lease for building on. The lessee should have the right to negotiate with any homesteader surrounded by his lease for the purchase of the latter's improvements the homesteader to have the right to re-enter elsewhere.

Sheep Should be Confined

The old objection to the encroachments of sheep on leased lands was heard again. One rancher pointed out that although the law forbade the running of sheep in this district this was being evaded and sheep were being allowed to interfere with the cattle. Chairman Pope drew attention to the fact that at present there is no land set aside for sheep and asked if there was any in this locality that could be so reserved. No one knew of any. It was agreed, however, that sheep should be kept strictly apart from cattle and horses, and that where sheep had to be driven across leases they should be kept to a legalized trail and not allowed to stop on the lease. Where possible the owner should be compelled to ship them by car.

It was regarded by the ranchers as a hardship that leased lands should be subject to municipal and school taxes.

The meeting decided that the government should be asked to supplement the present local wolf bounties, to the extent of $50 for old wolves and $25 for pups.

A vote of thanks to the commissioners for their courteous hearing of the ranchers' suggestions was moved by Mr. Riley and seconded by Mr. Hardwick. The commissioners in return thanked the ranchers for the help they had given the commission in their investigations.

A Two-Year Policy

In conversation several of the leading ranchers made clear the reasons for their dissatisfaction with the present grazing conditions and regulations.

"It is quite evident that the homesteader has been favored and the stock raiser completely ignored," said one rancher. "The result has been the decline of the cattle industry till it has almost dwindled away."

"The two year cancellation clause has simply forced the ranchers of this district into a two-year policy," was the way another rancher put it. "The ranching business in the Gleichen district consists at present of buying other herds and butchering them en bloc on a two-year basis, to make the business conform with the present leasing conditions. The ranchers have found this an exceedingly profitable business and the next two years, which will see the final wind up of their few remaining cattle, will be considerably more so. To induce them to relinquish these big profits something very definite must be done with a view to leading them to discontinue and breed."

The solution of the problem according to this same rancher lies in mixed farming but not as that term is understood in the north and west.

Farmers Should "Finish" Cattle

There is a difference between the country around here and that in the north and west," was pointed out. "Here, it is divided up into grazing and agricultural land in large blocks; in the north, the homesteader has mixed land on which he can mixed farm. Why ask the man with straight agricultural land to farm in this way? The rancher cannot 'finish' cattle; it is the farmers place to 'finish' them with his waste grain, straw, etc. The farmers' unions should purchase the big herds from the ranchers for distribution among the members of their union. The ordinary farmer on a half section should be able to take fifteen or twenty head. It would pay the banks to advance the farmers money to purchase the cattle in order that the by-products can be utilized. Stock so finished by the farmer in the winter on his by-products can be increased $20 to $30 per head in value."

"This is the real mixed farming in this kind of country. The farmers of this locality have taken the lead in this matter by approving these resolutions of the ranchers and by the way they have already begun to buy the stock. Last year in the Gleichen district there was not a single hoof of cattle running at large. They were all fed by the farmers."

Gentlemen—Last winter I received great benefit from the use of MINARD'S LINIMENT in a severe attack of LaGrippe, and I have frequently proved it to be very effective in cases of inflammation.

Yes, I really must go to-morrow. You can just as well stay till Monday.

But the folks are expecting me. Telegraph them that you're going to stay.

I'm sorry, but if I stay I'm liable to lose a thousand dollars on the deal I told you of.

Oh, please, the deal can wait a few days.

My manager has written me that my business needs my attention.

Yes, but he is only afraid to assume a little responsibility. The business will be all right.

There is an important meeting of the directors that I really must attend.

Oh, they'll get along all right without you.

You know how much I'd like to stay but the fact is my railroad ticket runs out to-morrow.

Well, in that case I suppose you will have to go. Be sure and come up to see us again in a month or two.

Thousands of mothers can testify to the virtue of Mother Graves' Worm Expeller, because they know from experience how useful it is.

When the new minister, a handsome and unmarried man, made his first pastoral call at the Froedicks, he took little Anna up in his arms and tried to kiss her. But the child refused to be kissed, she struggled loose and ran off into the next room where her mother was getting a few finishing touches to her adornment before going back into the drawing room to greet the clergyman.

Mamma, the little girl whispered, the man in the drawing room wanted me to kiss him.

Well, replied mamma, why didn't you let him? I would if I were you.

Thereupon Anna ran back into the drawing room, and the minister asked:

Well, little lady, won't you kiss me now?

No, I won't, replied Anna promptly, but mamma says she will.

I don't want none, I tell you. Git out or I'll throw you out. I don't need yer darned books.

Yes you do. You need two of them—this one on grammar and this one on etiquette. You may not want them, but—

Dysentery corrodes the intestines and speedily eats away the lining, bringing about dangerous conditions that may cause death. Dr. J. D. Those subject to dysentery should not be without this simple yet powerful remedy.

Bilson, who is a stout man, was running to catch a train the other day, when his friend Jones called out: Halloo, Bilson. In a hurry? Going somewhere?

Keeping his breath for other purposes Bilson made no reply, but he determined to take a terrible revenge. About 1 o'clock next morning he called Jones up on the telephone. After a deal of ringing, a sleepy voice at the other end of the wire told him Jones was there.

That you Jones?

What do you want? asked Jones. I've been in bed these two hours.

I'm Bilson, went on the other. Remember seeing me running this morning, eh? Yes? Well, I was going somewhere, and I was in a hurry. Good night.

Then Bilson hung up the receiver and got back into bed a happy man.

THIEVES LOOT MANY CABINS

Trailed by Passengers They are Captured and Put in Irons by Captain

Thieves have recently been active recently on board steamers voyaging down the Brazilian coast, and the experiences of the British Royal Mail Company's ship Amazon on her last homeward voyage probably supply the explanation.

A few hours after the Amazon left Santos a man wearing a startling gray suit was seen to enter several of the first class cabins as if he were looking for his own.

When the passengers went down to tea one of them said: A man came into my cabin while I was resting. As I thought he looked rather a suspicious character I followed him to another cabin belonging to a friend of mine, and found him putting his hand into the wardrobe. I asked him what he was doing, whereupon he fled.

A man came into my cabin, too, said another passenger. I wonder if it was the same man?

The news caused general excitement on board and inquiries showed that a quantity of money and jewelry had been stolen.

The captain ordered a special watch to be kept at night.

It was then discovered that the two men were prisoners recently discharged from San Paulo jail, and put on board to ship at Santos without any warning to the captain. Two other ex-prisoners had also been put on board at Santos.

The authorities at Rio Janeiro refused to accept the men, and they had to be taken to Lisbon. They were kept in irons, and were continually watched during the voyage. Every one in the ship was relieved when the last man walked off the gangway at Lisbon.

DISEASE IS DUE TO BAD BLOOD.

To Cure Common Ailments the Blood Must be Made Rich and Red

Nearly all the diseases that afflict humanity are caused by bad blood—weak, watery blood poisoned by impurities. Bad blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, lumbago and rheumatism; debility and indigestion, neuralgia and other nerve troubles, and disfiguring skin diseases like eczema and salt rheum show how impure the blood actually is. No use trying a different remedy for each disease, because they all spring from the one cause—bad blood. To cure any of these troubles you must get right down to the root of the trouble in the blood, and that is just what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do. They make new, rich blood and thus cure these diseases when common medicine fails. Mrs. John Jackson, Woodstock, N.Y., writes from a personal experience a complete cure through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I was a sufferer for a number of years from neuralgia, and a general debility of the nerves and system. I had tried several doctors and many medicines but to no avail until I began Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. At the time I began the Pills I had grown so bad that I could hardly be on my feet and was forced to wear elastic bandages about the ankles. The pain I suffered at times from the neuralgia was terrible. I had almost given up hope when I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the course of a few weeks I felt an improvement, and I gladly continued the use of the Pills until I was once more quite well and able to attend to all my household duties." If you are inclined to cure yourself today with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Compliments

John Drewe, the actor, at the age of 58 looks no more than 35. Complimented on this fact, Mr. Drewe said: I try to keep my hair on and my stomach off—that is the true secret of perennial youth.

Then he told one of his stories illustrative of the horrors of corpulence.

A fat man, he said, could not help laughing one day at the ludicrous appearance of a very bow-legged chap—one of those arch looking chaps, you know.

Though a total stranger to him, the fat man slapped the bow-legged man on the back and said:

By jingo, brother, you look as if you'd been riding a barrel.

The bow-legged chap smiled and poked his finger deep into the fat man's soft, loose stomach.

And you look as if you had been swallowing one, he said.

The decision of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway to name its new $1,000,000 hotel in Regina, "The Qu'Appelle," has been generally welcomed by that city.

The historic name is one that has a warm place in the hearts of all westerners and the beautiful legend attached to it has a wide appeal. As told by the celebrated Indian Poetess, Miss Pauline E. Johnson, it is this: "An Indian voyageur on the eve of his wedding day is paddling his canoe swiftly along across the waters of Echo Lake, west from the present site of Fort Qu'Appelle. As he paddles he sings: "Our voices keep time and our oars keep time." Suddenly the stillness of the night is broken by a sharp cry. He ceases his song and rests his paddle, listening for a further sound, fancying that he has heard his name uttered by someone. Again across the waters there comes a shrill cry. This time there is no doubt but that it is the name of the voyageur. Placing his hands to his mouth, he shouts, "Qu'Appelle" (who calls?) For answer comes once more the cry of a woman's voice sending his name. The Indian recognizes the voice of his sweet heart and fearing some mischance puts all his strength into his paddle. Looking over his shoulder to judge of his position he sees the moon rising. At length arrived at the reservation where the Indians are camped he finds them mourning and is told that his sweetheart is dead, that she has passed away just as the moon was rising in the east, after having called his name three times." And thus was given to the river, lake and town, the name Qu'Appelle. To this day the Indians declare that when the moon rises to a certain point on Echo Lake one can hear the spirit of the girl calling to her lover as she haunts the valley.

Three cariboo and two moose heads, which seasoned hunters declare are most interesting specimens of what the north country holds in the way of big game were brought to Edmonton a few days ago by a hunting party.

They bagged the heads 35 miles north-east of Holmes Crossing, 350 miles up the Athabasca river, where the only sign of civilization is some grazing for the Grand Trunk Pacific transcontinental line.

Moose and cariboo? One of them repeated the words in response to a question. Well, I should say we did see em. We saw hundreds.

The moose tracks along the river where the animals come down to drink, are cut into the otherwise untracked wilderness to a depth of six and eight inches. The region is their own and they roam it as if man were unheard of.

Before going on this trip, I was under the impression I had seen an abundance of big game and scenery worth the while; but now I am ready to confess that a new paradise has been opened to the sportsman and nature-lover. The country is as nature left it, and it is picturesque and interesting which take the kinks out of the tired brain and make the traveler feel as if he were born again—a new man.

Fresh evidences of the unsurpassed mineral wealth opened up by the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in Western Canada are brought to light almost day by day and the latest find is mentioned in a report just received from Hazelton which states that a body of high-grade cooking coal has been discovered lying south of that town. The property in question is on the Klappan River, 12 miles from the G.T.P., and contains 21 seams, two of which have been partially developed. Of these last one is seven feet in thickness and the other four. According to assays made in Vancouver the coal yields 68.5 per cent of coke, but it is also high grade steaming and domestic fuel.

Mr. A. K. Bouchier, the original pioneer of the Port settlement in British Columbia, who went into that country from Ashcroft in 1905 as a freighter of supplies for the Grand Trunk Pacific construction camps, has just arrived in Edmonton and states that with a gap of 125 miles between Port George and Fraser Lake and a few minor gaps, the roadbed of the G.T.P. has all been graded from the end of steel at Teite Jaune Cache to the end of steel at Hazelton. The right of way is now practically cut through from the eastern to the western ends of the construction and by next spring will have been completed. Rapid progress has been made throughout the summer and fall months. On the western end Mr. W. C. C. Mehan, General superintendent reports that the line is completed and ready to operate as far as Mud Creek beyond Hazelton. It should therefore only be a short time before this extended line is thrown open from Prince Rupert.

When the average man does make an honest confession, he makes it in strict confidence to himself.

Many a man who howls for justice would probably try to sneak up an alley if he saw it coming.

Some people take a lot of care in selecting a revolver or pistol, and then buy any cartridges whatever. No wonder they don't always get good results. There is just as much difference in cartridges as in firearms. Always get Winchester make of cartridges and you will have cartridges that are reliable and uniform in shooting and give maximum velocity. They cost no more than inferior makes.

How Much of Your Road Money is Spent in Filling Ruts?

If the millions of dollars that have been spent repairing worn-out, washed-out streets and roads had been used to build more miles of good highways, fewer farmers would now be wasting valuable time and money taking "round-about" routes to town.

FIRST cost of an ordinary dirt or macadam road is usually only a "starter." The cost of upkeep soon equals that first cost and there is always an ever-increasing annual expense for repairs. The worst feature of it is that such a road is never a really first-class highway.

IN estimating the cost of a road you should include the expense of keeping it in good condition for at least twenty years. If you don't, you're figuring on the first payment for that road, only. And the remaining payments are as certain as taxes. The upkeep cost of concrete roads is practically nothing.

Concrete roads are the best roads from the first—and the best and cheapest roads at the end of ten, fifteen and twenty years.

CONCRETE is the ideal paving material for streets in small towns as well as for main highways in the country.

Edward N. Hines, Wayne County, Michigan, Road Commissioner, and one of America's foremost authorities on good roads, says:

Any community that wants a good road, a road that is cheaper for even a short time under fairly heavy traffic than any other good road, a road that is less expensively maintained, a road that is sanitary and dustless, a road that is not slippery, a road that affords good traction for any type of vehicle 365 days in the year, a road that in the long run, say 10, 15, 20 years and longer, is the cheapest of all good roads, should investigate the merits of concrete.

WRITE for the facts about Concrete highways. When convinced, use your influence to have the roads for which you pay built to last.

We have highway experts who will visit any community intending to build more roads and explain just why and how concrete roads are best and cheapest.

Dizzying

In this great and glorious country of ours, exclaimed the political orator, there is no north, no south, no east, no west.

No wonder we don't know where we are at, came a querulous voice from the outskirts of the crowd.

The old lady from the country and her small son were driving to town when a huge motor car bore down upon them. The horse was badly frightened and began to prance, whereupon the old lady leaped down and waved wildly to the chauffeur, screaming at the top of her voice.

The chauffeur stopped the car and offered to help to get the horse quiet again.

That's all right, said the boy, who remained composedly in the carriage. I can manage the horse. You just lead mother past.

Henry R. Williams, when president of the Puget Sound extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, gave a great deal of his time to a personal supervision of the improvements on the line, especially being interested in the growth of the new towns and their various business. He heard that a barber had located at Malden, a "division point" in Washington, and upon visiting the place proceeded to patronize the razor artist.

The barber lathered and stropped and then took a swipe down the cheek of his customer. Williams winced whereupon the barber asked:

Does the razor hurt you, sir?

That depends, dryly answered the victim. If you are skinning me it don't, but if you are shaving me it does.

It's the easiest thing in the world to go from bad to worse.

IN INTERESTS OF PEACE

TENSION IN BALKAN CRISIS IS CONSIDERABLY RELIEVED

Great Britain and Germany Said to be Working Together in an Effort to Secure a Peaceful Settlement—Diplomatic World Welcomes Authentic Reports Regarding Peaceful Negotiations.

London.—The tension in the Balkan crisis is considerably relieved by the news that the peace plenipotentiaries are continuing their negotiations and that Great Britain and Germany are working actively to secure a peaceful settlement between Austria and Serbia. According to one Constantinople report the difficulties in the way of arranging a formal armistice are so great that the negotiations are taking the form of seeking a basis for peace.

The danger of the reopening of the hostilities, however, is still serious. Apparently only an informal armistice of 48 hours has been agreed on and it is reported that the Bulgarian forces are already moving closer to the Tchauska line and are entrenching themselves in readiness to renew the attack.

The Turks have an army of more than one hundred thousand men and soon will have one hundred and thirty thousand, for the most part fresh picked troops, behind the lines, and it is certain, according to all the correspondents, that they will give a good account of themselves if the fighting is resumed.

Under these circumstances, with Adrianople and Scutari still holding out, Turkey little likely to show a very yielding attitude in the peace negotiations.

The report that the Servians have reached Durazzo appears to be premature. A wireless dispatch of today's date brings the interesting report that Albanian independence has been proclaimed there, that the Turkish government is now preparing to depart and that the town is accepting without opposition the new regime.

What action the Servian army and government will assume towards these developments should form some idea of whether, as reported, Serbia is willing to accept the suggestion of an autonomous Albania. The greatest weight is attached in the diplomatic world to the seemingly well authenticated reports that Great Britain and Germany are now acting in cordial cooperation on the basis of postponing all side issues until after the war settlement. A reassuring statement also comes from St. Petersburg that Russia and Austria do not desire to fight over a port in the Adriatic. Thus what appeared to be an imminent danger of Europe being divided into two hostile camps seems to be dissipated for the time being at least.

BRITAIN FEELS REASSURED

But Acknowledges that Situation is Still Extremely Dangerous

London.—The tension in the Balkan crisis is sensibly relieved by the news that the peace plenipotentiaries are continuing their negotiations and that Great Britain and Germany are working actively to secure a peaceful settlement between Austria and Serbia. According to one Constantinople report the difficulties in the way of arranging a formal armistice are so great that the negotiations are taking the form of seeking a basis for peace.

C.P.R. Encouraging Farmers

Calgary.—The policy of the department of natural resources of the C.P.R. to assist the live stock industry of the western provinces was announced at the Alberta Fat Stock Show by Dr. J. G. Rutherford, superintendent of animal husbandry for the C.P.R. The policy contemplates the establishment of herds of pure bred dairy cattle and the placing of selected bulls with farmers in various parts of the province; the furnishing of steers at cost to farmers' sons who will undertake to feed them; the profits on sale to be paid to the boys; study of rates and car service as they affect stock interests and the encouragement of co-operative buying, handling, breeding and selling of live stock by farmers.

Madman in a Liner

Madrid.—One of the passengers on the Transatlantic liner Catalina at Cadiz suddenly went mad and attacked several fellow-passengers and some sailors with a knife. Before he could be overpowered thirteen persons were wounded and three are in a critical condition.

CHANGES IN R.N.W.M.P.

Scheme on Foot to Increase the Force and Also the Pay

Ottawa.—Premier Borden has given notice of a Bill amending the Royal Northwest Mounted Police Act. It will provide for some important changes in regard to the force. It is proposed in the first place, to increase the strength of the force. There have been lately 11 divisional posts and 170 detachments, with not sufficient reserve of strength at any of the divisional posts to meet emergencies. The detachments consist in most cases of a single constable.

The demands for more detachments have been constant and insistent, the population having increased five times and the settled area having extended tenfold, while the force has stood at the strength of ten years ago, with 50 officers and less than 600 non-commissioned officers and constables.

The Bill provides for a substantial increase in the strength of the force, and will also provide for a higher scale of pay for the men. The service has experienced much difficulty in keeping the men and in setting new men under the existing scale while the many opportunities of more profitable employment exist in the Western Provinces.

A new departure will be a clause providing for the use of plain clothes for mounted police. The need for this has been very evident in tracing down persons wanted for murder and other offences in the Western settlements.

PROSPERITY OF CANADA

CANADIANS HARDLY KNOW THEIR OWN POSSIBILITIES

Dominion is Enjoying a Remarkable Era of Prosperity and Offers Wonderful Opportunities for the Development of Wealth—Trade Will Reach Billion Dollar Mark This Year.

Ottawa.—In the senate the address was resumed by Hon. Mr. Loughheed, government leader, who said that Canada was on the eve of an era of prosperity which he believed Canadians generally were unable to appreciate. It was more appreciated by people from the outside and the result was that the possibilities of wealth in Canada was being largely exploited by people from the United States. He believed that in Canada there were greater possibilities for the development of wealth than in any other country in the world. A few years ago the man who predicted a billion dollar trade would have been laughed at; yet Canada's trade will this year reach that total. The United States trade did not reach the billion dollar mark until 1875, when it had a population between 45,000,000 and 50,000,000.

An examination of the figures revealed the fact that in no country had growth been so rapid as in Canada.

Hon. Mr. Loughheed said that so great had been the success of the aid given to provinces for the promotion of agriculture, that the government would probably increase the grants this year. It was to be regretted that in Canada, where agricultural possibilities were greater than in any other country in the world, the provinces gave so little attention to agricultural education. The great support went to institutions of higher education which turned out consumers instead of producers, while with arable land enough to raise food for the whole of Europe, Canada had to import foodstuffs from as far as New Zealand. An effort should be made to divert the youth of Canada from the effort to acquire classics to the neglect of the soil.

Regina to Quebec by Electric Railway

Toronto.—To link Quebec province with Winnipeg and ultimately Regina and open up a huge tract of rich country now undeveloped is the idea of the Porcupine and Belt Electric Railway, with P. G. Earl of New York as president. Work on the company's right of way from Dane to Temiskaming will be pressed this winter and operations further west in the spring.

It is proposed to run cars on this road with electric storage batteries to be recharged from power houses located at various waterfalls, which are plentiful along the route.

Rock Slide Destroys Tunnel

Vancouver, B.C.—The entire top of a section of Jackass Mountain, opposite Keefers on the line of the C.P.R., collapsed a few days ago, hurling into the Fraser river hundreds of thousands of cubic yards of rock, ruining a 249 foot tunnel of the C.P.R. The slide occurred at 9 o'clock in the morning and made a noise that was heard for miles. No lives were lost, as there did not happen to be any railway laborers working in the vicinity at the time.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON X.—FOURTH QUARTER, FOR DEC. 9, 1912

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xviii, 1-14. Memory verses, 2, 3.—Golden Text Matt. xviii, 10.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The question of the disciples with which this lesson begins, "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?" carries us far back in the history of man on the earth, even to the suggestion of the old serpent to Eve, "Ye shall be as gods" (Gen. iii, 5). His own ambition is seen in Isa. xiv, 13, 14: "I will exalt my throne above the stars of God. I will be like the Most High." The significance of the title "Most High God" is seen in the first use of it in Gen. xiv, 18-22, where it evidently refers to God as the possessor of heaven and earth. The great adversary's ambition, therefore, is to possess the earth and the people upon it.

The late Dr. Weston said that the Bible is the record of the conflict between God and the devil for man and his inheritance, the earth. When people join house to house and field to field, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth (Isa. v, 8), on which principal all trusts and combines seem to be carried on, it is not difficult to recognize the unseen ambitions, wicked one back of it all, who offered to our Lord all the kingdoms of this world and the glory of them if He would worship him (Luke iv, 5-7).

The man will yet come, if he is not already in sight, who will accept this offer of the devil, and all the world will worship him whose names are not in the Book of Life (Dan. xii, 3; Rev. xiii, 8). We need to understand this in order to be delivered from the ambition to be great even in the kingdom. He must be blind indeed who would desire greatness of power in this present evil age unless he could use it wholly for God. The lifelong motto of every believer should be: "The Lord alone shall be exalted" (Isa. ii, 11, 17).

Not only on this occasion did the idea of personal greatness lay hold of the disciples, but just after He had the second time foretold His death they by the way disputed among themselves who should be the greatest (Mark ix, 31-34). On another occasion both James and John and their mother asked for seats on His right hand and left hand in His kingdom and glory (Matt. xx, 21; Mark x, 35-37). Then again at the last passover on the night of His betrayal, after He had indicated Judas as His betrayer, there was a strife among them which of them would be accounted the greatest (Luke xxi, 21-34). He always taught them that genuine humility was true greatness, and as to places in His kingdom, the Father had arranged all that, and we must leave it with Him.

On the occasion of our lesson He called a little child and set him in the midst and by an object lesson taught them humility and true greatness and also that to enter the kingdom one must become as a little child (2-4). A little child does not suggest innocence as its principal feature, for it is marvelous how early a very little child shows willfulness and temper, yet I once heard a Roman Catholic bishop use these words about becoming as little children as a proof of the need of a purgatory, where we could somehow work off our sins until, as when we were innocent children, we would be fit for the kingdom.

The Scriptures, the reading of which the Roman Catholics do not encourage teach us plainly that only the blood of Jesus can cleanse our sins and that His absolutely perfect righteousness, which He gives freely to all who receive Him, is our only fitness for the presence of God (Rom. iii, 24; v, 1, 9; 1 Cor. i, 30). A very little child is helpless, teachable, trustful, comes when called, as this child did. When we come to Him in our emptiness all His fullness becomes ours, and then we become and indeed are little ones, who believe in Him (verse 6), and He counts all treatment of such little ones as done to Himself (verses 5-9).

Awful indeed are some of the words in these verses and in Mark ix, 42-48, concerning the possibility of being cast into everlasting hell fire, but how blessed the assurance that this fearful place was never prepared for man, but for the devil and his angels; that the Lord is not willing that any should perish and that those to whom He gives eternal life can never perish (verses 5, 11, 25-41); 1 Pet. iii, 9; John x, 28). The ministry of angels is beautifully referred to in verse 10, and that they always have access to our Father in heaven, that they minister to us here on the earth is taught by Heb. i, 14, and many other passages. It is blessed to be able to say, because we really believe it and know something of the joy and peace of it, "I am left alone, the Lord Jesus and the angels are always with me."

In verses 13-14 we have what might be called a summary of the three parables of Luke xv, showing the joy in heaven over one sinner repenting. If we are not thus seeking lost ones can we be said to have the mind of Christ? The incident in Matt. xix, 13-15, which is also found in Mark x, 13-16, Luke xviii, 15-17, of the little children whom He took up in His arms and blessed and said: Of such is the kingdom of God, when the disciples would have driven them away, shows us again His heart towards them and reminds us of Zech. viii, 3.

Held Ships at Lake

Ottawa, Ont.—Arrangements have been made by which American vessels presenting themselves after midnight of December 8, at Port Arthur and Port William will be permitted to load grain remaining at the ports in the winter, and in the spring deliver it at Point Edward, Thunder Bay or Georgian Bay ports, or at Port Colborne. The move is part of the general plan to prevent a grain blockade, and was brought about at conferences held between the acting minister of trade and commerce, Hon. J. D. Reid, the Grain Commission, and the representative of the Dominion Marine Association.

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons & Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—The situation in the wheat market has not improved during the past week, and had it not been for the influence on trading sentiment, caused by the backing and filling in the political situation in Europe, it is easy to see that wheat prices would have shown another substantial decline. As it is the downward action in the markets today, has brought prices in the United States markets and Winnipeg, to a new low point for the season, although closing prices are only 1/4c. to 1/2c. under what they closed at a week ago. On the 20th inst. and again yesterday, the Liverpool market got considerably excited over fresh developments in the Balkan situation, which seemed to portend serious results, and very sharp advances in prices took place, principally through speculative short sellers endeavoring to cover their sales in quick order. This action affected markets on this side in the same way, but in less than twenty-four hours the warclouds which seemed so ominous, melted away and the light of apparent peace again prevailed. War or no war the actual grain situation of the world is heavy owing to the superabundance for the time being, of all kinds of grain. The world has raised, and is raising in the crop year of 1912 and 1913, the largest crops on record, of all kinds of grain, besides an abundance of some other staple kinds of vegetable food stuffs for man and beast. Of course every country in the world, and every grain growing district, has not had record crops and there has also been in different parts more or less of unfavorable weather coming however mostly at and after the harvest period, after the growth and fruition of the crops had been made, but this, although causing some depreciation in quality, and giving farmers a great deal of extra work and expense in saving the crops, has not lessened the total available quantity to any extent. There is however, no country where in this crop year, there is anything approaching what would be called a failure, or even a partial failure, of any of the staple crops, that is taking each country as a whole, although there doubtless are small districts in different countries where from one cause or another only small crops have been raised. But in several large agricultural countries there is great abundance, and in the aggregate this abundance has turned to be a great weight on the market, and the weight of it, even in the face of enormous war influence, has put down prices until it is not unreasonable to think they are getting on debatable ground, from which they could easily spring upwards whenever any bullish development of more than temporary appearance takes place. Perhaps it is scarcely right to say that the weight of abundance of wheat has caused the great decline in the markets, rather it has been short selling in the speculative markets by professional speculative operators, who seeing the large supplies in prospect, kept offering and selling for future delivery, large quantities of wheat at steadily lowering prices thus making the market price for both the miller who buys and the farmer who sells the actual wheat. Of course it must be remembered that the speculative operators who now bear down prices lower than there is any need for, are the same people who at some other time carry prices higher than there is any need for. At the present time to quote from a well written article in the Commercial West: "Wheat may go lower but it is already too low. Farmers cannot become the dictators. They have the remedy at their command. If they will persistently hold their wheat until after January 1st, they could then doubtless market the remainder of their crop at an average of 10c. above the present price. For them to sell more wheat now is to place it on the bargain counter. The price made in the pit (that is by the speculative short seller) while this bearish sentiment lasts, will prevail, unless the actual wheat is largely taken off the market." In the meantime of course, current statistics continue of a bearish kind. Last week the world's shipments of wheat from exporting to importing countries were 14,400,000 bushels against 10,080,000 bushels same week last year. The quantity on ocean passage is now 39,976,000 bushels against 32,496,000 bushels last year. The United States visible supply increased last week 3,354,000 bushels against an increase last year of 988,000 bushels. The total United States visible is now 55,370,000 bushels against 58,889,000 bushels a year ago. The European visible supply increased 688,000 bushels last week against an increase of 600,000 bushels a year ago and the aggregate is now 88,800,000 bushels against 91,708,000 bushels a year ago. The figures for these visible supplies may not appear so bearish when compared with last year's figures but the indications are that the comparisons will become more bearish now with every passing week, and besides, it seems reasonable under present circumstances that the invisible supplies of wheat in the hands of merchants and millers in both Europe and America and of flour in dealers' and bakers' hands, have been largely increased in recent weeks and there can be little doubt that the supplies of wheat still back in farmers' hands on both continents are much larger than they were a year ago. Another chief bearish factor in the wheat situation is the Argentine crop. It has come along from seed-time with practically no unfavorable reports about it, and it is understood to be one of the largest, if perhaps not the record, crop of wheat raised in the Argentine. Cutting in the earlier northern parts will be started any day now, and will be general in two or three weeks. Unfavorable weather may be encountered during harvest and threshing time, as was the case to a large extent last year but the crop is too far advanced under favorable circumstances, to look for any large falling down now. The Australian crop is also doing well, and owing to timely rains in India the prospect of the new crop in that country is improved during the past week. The United States winter wheat is in high condition perhaps too high to favorably withstand the rigor of the latter part of winter. In western Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, the weather is too dry and rain would be beneficial.

Our Winnipeg market has seen a good demand for cash wheat lately and there has been considerable activity in futures trading. Prices paid by exporters and shippers have been well upheld but of course have had to conform to the downward trend of the situation, and to the approach of the close of lake navigation, which will come in about two weeks. Although the C.P.R. proposed to regulate the movement from the West by temporarily refusing to supply cars to some country points, the receipts at Winnipeg during the week show practical no let-up. The weather over the country continues remarkably fine and steady for the time of year. Today's cash prices for cars en-route past Winnipeg are down to the basis of December delivery but wheat now in store at terminal elevators available for immediate delivery on complete documents, is basis November delivery. Cars en-route past here 1 Northern 78 1/2c; 2 Nor., 75 1/2c; 3 Nor., 72 1/2c; No. 4 Wheat, 68c. Alberta Red Winter No. 1, 74 1/2c; A.R. No. 2, 70 1/2c; A.R. No. 3, 73 1/2c. Tough wheat 4c. to 6c. under straight grade. Futures closed November 81 1/2c; December, 78 1/2c; May, 83 1/2c.

Oats—

The oat trade has turned very quiet and cash prices are not quoted, but No. 2 Canadian Western has buyers at 34c spot Port William, 3 C.W., 32c; Ex. 1 Feed, 32 1/2c; 1 Feed, 32c; 2 Feed 30c. Futures closed November, 33 1/2c; December, 31c; May, 33 1/2c.

Barley—

The barley market has declined heavily and prices are No. 3, 44c; No. 4, 40c.

Flax—

The flax market is also dull and lower, and cash prices are not quoted. Futures closed November 119c; December, 116c; May, 125 1/2c.

All prices quoted above are for delivery in store Port William, Port Arthur and Duluth.

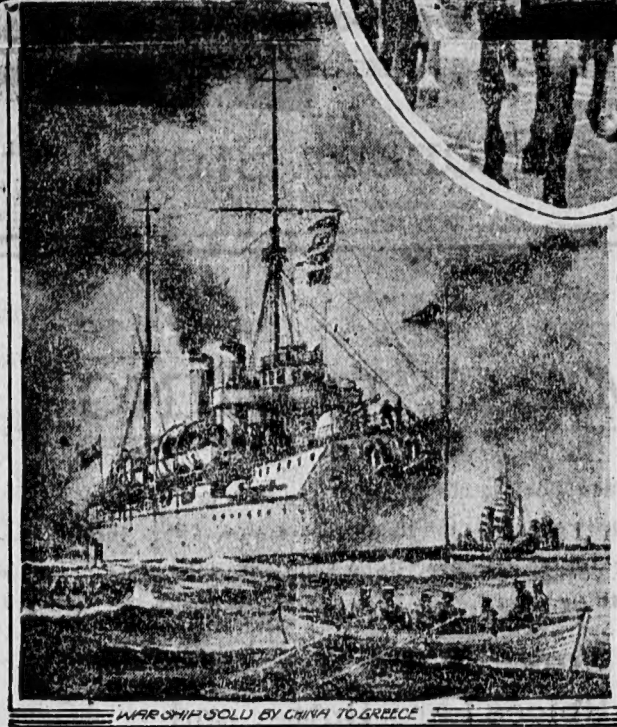

ALBERTA TO WINNIPEG

Winnipeg Favors Scheme to Pipe Natural Gas From Medicine Hat

Winnipeg.—The Board of Control has decided to take up in earnest the proposal to supply Winnipeg with natural gas by piping it to the city from Medicine Hat. A special meeting of the board was called for the purpose of going into the possibility of the plan with Georgeon & Shimmin, who are promoting the enterprise. The fact that the promoters have now made an offer to pipe the gas to Winnipeg and supply the city with the gas at 49c. per thousand feet, including distribution in the city, has brought the scheme within the bounds of practicability. The two men, who have for years been attempting to secure the privilege of piping the gas, will meet the board in special session and a report will be made to council by the board concerning its finding in the matter.

QUEEN VICTORIA MONUMENT

English-Speaking World to Celebrate 100 Years of Peace on Feb. 17, 1915

New York.—A meeting of the sub-committee of the American commission to arrange for the celebration in 1914-15 of the one hundredth anniversary of peace among English-speaking people, was held in the Lawyer's club.

One matter, acted upon favorably, was a suggestion of Senator Root's that on the 17th of February, 1915, five minutes shall be set aside and that those five minutes shall be designated by the Parliament of Great Britain and the Congress of the United States, as a period during which all activities of the English-speaking world shall come to a full stop, and that for five minutes the English-speaking world shall review the one hundred years of peace and its attendant blessings with prayer and contemplation.

Another matter, acted upon favorably, was the question of a woman's auxiliary commission, whose specific work will be to advance the proposal to erect a monument to Queen Victoria in the city of Washington. A proposal to erect at some conspicuous point in the United States a bust of Chatham, as a memorial to the friendship of the British people to Americans at the outset of their career, was agreed to.

It was announced that the commission would give a dinner in honor of James Bryce, the retiring British ambassador, at the Hotel Astor, on the 13th of next month.

STRAW PLANT FOR HAT

Company Now Negotiating With City Plant Will Cost $150,000

Medicine Hat.—Messrs. F. A. Burton and G. E. Schaub, of Calgary, were in Medicine Hat negotiating for the location here of a plant for the manufacture of heavy wrapping paper, straw board, sheathing paper and kindred products, the raw material to be the vast quantity of straw which under present conditions is discarded by the farmers as worthless. These gentlemen held a meeting with the mayor and city council and decided to locate the proposed factory in Medicine Hat. They asked for free gas, free site and certain minor concessions in the matter of taxation to be determined later. The proposed plant will require ten acres of land. Plans have been completed for the buildings which will include a manufacturing building 82 feet by 84 feet, two stories in height, a vat building for burning, washing and cooking of the straw, 42 by 18 feet, and a warehouse for the storage of lime. The plant will cost nearly $150,000.

Cost of Premier Borden's Trip

Ottawa.—According to a return tabled in the Commons today, Premier Borden's travelling expenses in England last summer totalled $4,838. Other items of unforeseen expenditure include $10,000 for the sufferers in the Titanic disaster; $30,000 for the Regina cyclone sufferers, and $30,000 to assist in the removal of buildings in Frank, Alberta, to a site secure from the dangers from the crumbling mountain overhanging the town.

Trinity church, Sussex, was the scene of a very interesting event Oct. 30th, when Mr. Barton Stone Corey, of Gleichen, Alta., son of Rev. E. C. and Mrs. Corey, of Vancouver, led to the altar Miss Eileen Jean, eldest daughter of Dr. W. Hatfield and Mrs. White. Rev. Canon Neales performed the ceremony. Miss Gertrude Sherwood presided at the organ, playing softly throughout the services. The church was beautifully decorated with rowan berries and cedar. The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a handsome bridal robe of white duchess satin, with trimmings of pearls and shadow lace, and veil with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Kate White, sister of the bride, wore a beautiful costume of pale green silk, veiled with white silk point d'esprit, large black picture hat trimmed with white ostrich mounts, and carried a bouquet of pale pink chrysanthemums. The bride's mother was gowned in a handsome black silk with black and white hat and corsage bouquet of violets. Mr. Geo. Stearns, of Amherst, supported the groom. Mr. Frank White, brother of the bride, and Mr. Gordon McKay, a cousin, ushered. A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents for relatives and immediate friends, the parlors were artistically decorated in red and green, in the dining room the color scheme being green and white. The bride, who is one of Sussex's most popular young ladies, received beautiful gifts of rare old china, cut glass and silver. Mr. and Mrs. Corey left on the C. P. R. for Halifax where they will spend a few days before leaving for their home in Gleichen, where Mr. Corey practices law. The bride traveled in a handsome tailored suit of Oxford grey, with grey velvet hat and black Persian lamb furs. Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. M. Garfield White, Mrs. Kent Scovil, Mrs. Stone, Miss Jamie Stone, St. John; Mrs. John Irvine, Mrs. Mrs. Spooner and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Angevin, Hampton; Mr. George Stearns, Amherst, and Mr. Raleigh Trites Sackville.
